

Gesellschaft für Aerosolforschung e.V.
Association for Aerosol Research

GAeF is the second largest aerosol society in Europe but has attracted people from all parts of the world. Its members come from a variety of areas including universities, research centers, governmental institutes and industry. GAeF promotes science in all areas of aerosol research and makes a special effort to advance interdisciplinary cooperation.

Membership Benefits

Networking and Learning:

Aerosol Community: Boost your knowledge and career by connecting with the global network of aerosol experts that make up GAeF.

Member Directory: Find and get to know potential mentors, research collaborators, and project partners through GAeF's membership directory.

Job Opportunities: Get notified of new academic positions or job vacancies.

Subscriptions and Conferences:

Free Journal Subscription: Receive a full-year online subscription to the Journal of Aerosol Science.

Discounted Conference Registration: Save on the cost of attending the European Aerosol Conference (EAC) or one of the workshops organized by GAeF. Savings for participation in an EAC can amount to 50 EUR or more.

Travel Support: Student members of GAeF can receive travel support of up to 500 EUR p.p. to attend and present their work at a European or international aerosol conference.

Additional Benefits:

Volunteer Opportunities: Take a leading role in organizing an event or on the GAeF board. Members are eligible for any open position on the board.

Early Career: Enhance your resume through active membership in GAeF as potential employers value the work of professional associations.

Membership Application

Join GAeF today! You can either request a membership application form by sending an email to treasurer@gaef.de or directly download a PDF copy of the Application for Membership from the GAeF website.

